Governor Dummer

Academy

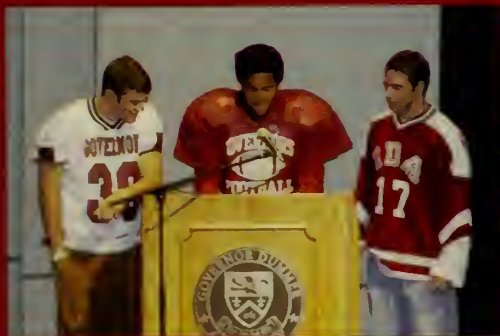

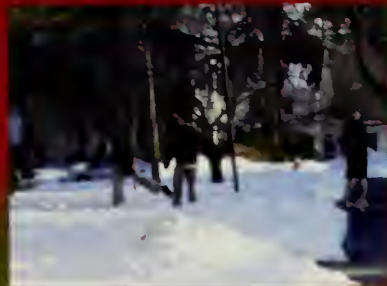

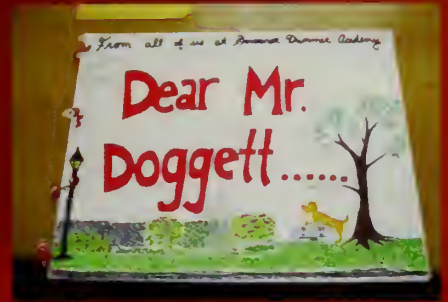

established 1763

THOUGH THE ABSENCE OF HEADMASTER MARTY DOGETT WAS NOTICABLE IN THE FALL, THE LAST CLASS TO BE KNOWN AS GRADUATES OF GOVERNOR DUMMER ACADEMY WORKED HARD TO REINVIGORATE THE CAMPUS WITH AN OVERWHELMING SENSE OF SCHOOL SPIRIT.

FROM A PRANK ON BROOKS AND AN ENTHUSIASTIC PEP RALLY IN THE FALL, THE INCORPORATION OF THE LIGHTS, CAMERA FOOD! SERIES IN THE WINTER AND THE ENTERTAINING MORNING MEETINGS THROUGHOUT THE YEAR, THE ENERGY ON THE GDA CAMPUS WAS UNDENIABLE.

In an office is a man whose dedication to Governor Dummer Academy is unrelenting. His responsibilities are immense. His dedication is unwavering, and his efforts to better the community are genuine. Although his every contribution to the school may not always be apparent to many of us in our everyday lives, he is the man who burns the midnight oil on a consistent basis so that stability and order are preserved at the Academy. Naturally, people may not always agree with every decision that he makes, but his position carries with it the burdens of a leader. We have always appreciated that he regards every member of this community as an extension of his own family. His family virtues transcend the domain of his own house to all on campus.

He continues to work in such a stressful and demanding position because of one thing: he loves it. From granting Kudos bars at Monday morning meetings with his wobbly tosses to worthy recipients, to opening his home every Saturday night for Mansion House, his love of GDA is apparent to all. The compassionate side of this die-hard Yankees fan is evident in the warm smile he wears whenever he greets us. Not every person can do what this man does day in and day out, year after year. Although his actions may, on occasion, be taken for granted, they should never be unappreciated.

The 2006 Milestone is dedicated to
John "Marty" Doggett

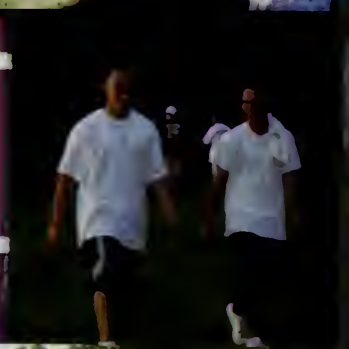

His true passion for doing all that he does for us was tested earlier this year when a serious illness kept him away. His absence was felt by all, as the man we always expected to be there, wasn't. It was felt at the very beginning of the year, when his presence was missed at Brantwood, and it was felt every day until the moment he resumed his duties once again. Making videos and cards for him while he was away was our attempt to demonstrate how important he is to everyone here and how much he is cared for by all.

Now that he's back, he has resumed his duties and things seem more like they used to be. The school, the community, is whole again. Seeing him in his office with his door wide open once again is a comforting sight. His return to GDA has completed our community.

That's why the class of 2006 believe that the most deserving recipient of this year's Milestone dedication is our Headmaster, John "Marty" Doggett.

BRANTIWOOD

Our class easily tackled the grueling terrain on a six-mile hike rivaling that of Mt. Everest. But our class trip was not all about shacking up with no electricity and avoiding Triple E infested mosquitos.

Dummer Dialogue

words from the class of 2006

I am here today to talk about life. When I say life, I mean my life because my life is great. And besides I'm the one with the mic and there is nothing you can do about it....If you see an opportunity to create a memory, don't hesitate.

-Zach Samson

Find something you love. Something that makes you happy and do it. If shooting hockey pucks eases your mind, then don't be afraid to go down to the hockey rink to shoot pucks...Go ahead and step outside your comfort zone. Don't be afraid to act a little wierd at times. As a wise man once said, if we weren't a litle crazy we would go insane.

-Mark Rinaldi

It is important to make the most of the daily oppurtunites that present theselves. So, play every shift like it is your last.

-Rossli Chace

...and the Marty's smarties goes to Jared Wood, for waking up at 3 o'clock in the morning fully dressed and ready to go on daylight savings day because he set his clock back 3 hours instead of one.

I hope you never lose your sense of wonder
 You get your fill to eat but always keep that hunger
 May you never take one single breath for granted
 God forbid love ever leave you empty-handed
 I hope you still feel small when you stand beside the ocean
 Whenever one door closes I hope one more opens.
 Promise me that you'll give faith a fighting chance
 And when you get the choice to sit it out or dance
 I hope you dance...I hope you dance.
 I hope you never fear those mountains in the distance Never settle for the path of least resistance Livin' might mean takin chances but they're worth takin'
 Lovin' might be a mistake but it's worth makin'
 Don't let some hell-bent heart leave you bitter
 When you come close to sellin' out reconsider
 Give the heavens above more than just a passing glance
 And when you get the choice to sit it out or dance
 I hope you dance...I hope you dance

Loyalty must arise spontaneously from the hearts of people

Your presence is a present to the world *
You're unique and one of a kind * Your life can be whatever you want it to be * Take the days just one at a time * Count your blessings, not your troubles * You'll make it through whatever comes along * Within you are so many answers * Understand, have courage, be strong * Don't put limits on yourself * So many dreams are waiting to be realized * Reach for the peak, your goal, your dreams * Decisions are too important to leave to chance * Nothing wastes more energy than worrying * Don't take things too seriously * Live a life of serenity, not a life of regrets * Remember that a little love goes a long way * Remember that a lot goes forever * Remember that a friendship is a wise investment * Life's treasures are people... together * Realize that it's never too late *
Do ordinary things in an extraordinary way *
Have health, and hope and happiness * Take time to wish upon a star * And don't ever forget...even for a day...how very special you are.

Dear Matty,

It is often difficult to be the youngest in a large family - even more so when your brothers and sisters are as diverse and accomplished as yours. However, you have never had a problem showing your individuality. Others are drawn to your warm personality, sense of humor and compassion. You have made us so very proud of you, whether you are pitching a baseball game, encouraging your teammates, playing basketball or percussion, dealing with injury or expressing insight on complex topics. We love you and wish you four great years at Colby!

Dear Emme,

Dad and I are so very, very proud of you. This picture has always been one of our favorites. It makes me sort of melt and then remember how grateful I am to have you for my daughter. You have grown and changed in so many ways, but your essence remains constant. I see this picture, and know, "that's my Emme."

Grandpa Moore wrote this poem for you on your 15th birthday. He both loved and admired you greatly.

Sparkling the day when she enters,
Clouds come whenever parting,
Seems one's life about her centers,
Love's tremor heartfelt starting.

Winsome, Lithe, Fair, Demure,
She captures in a wondrous net,
Forever her liege, servants sure,
Her beauty now nor never met.

Admirers we of a wondrous lass,
Pushing, urging to stand near her,
Since her realms another class,
Richer more than the Magi's myrrh.

Alas, today she's one year older,
And wiser than we can guess,
Seeking truth from things told her,
From girl to lady – she's nothing less.

The GDA experience will likely be the most influential of Emme's life. We are indebted to GDA for its generous support. Moreover, it has found the magic formula for turning silly and often misguided adolescents into well-educated and responsible citizens of sound moral character. Also, Emme's advisor, Mr. Rod McLain, supported her through thick and thin. He is an excellent schoolman and will be sorely missed.

Emme's uncle, Dave Moore, and his wife, Pam, introduced us to GDA. Their wonderful support, as well as that of Emme's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hughes, really made this all possible.

Emme, Jim, and I will be forever grateful for all they have done.

Sincerely,

Jim and Deb Hughes
